I have been in contact with TJ on a regular basis. We spoke yesterday for a while. Right now he is up in Canada delivering a pump to the gold mining operation. When he gets back Friday he has to finish up his requests for new market credit credits for 2014. He said that should take about two weeks. Once that is completed he said he intends to get going in earnest on the rink project. I know it seems not a lot is being done but the project is still being worked on. Please be patient.

Thanks

Jeff
